

THANK YOU NOTES

Stories of Connectional Giving

www.iaumc.org/tyn

Karen Dungan, Assistant to the Bishop for Connectional Ministries

Leaders from the Southeast District gathered late in August for a retreat to consider their priorities for ministry in the next few years. Karen Dungan came to facilitate the meeting.

She framed the discussion around Luke: 4:18-19, the proclamation of the year of God's favor, connecting it with the Biblical teaching of Jubilee. The group was reminded that God calls us to help the world practice Jubilee.

She encouraged the leaders to look at the ministry that they were already doing in order to build on their assets. Then she cited a quote from Thomas

Edison to help open up unexpected possibilities:

"Opportunity is missed by most people because it is dressed in overalls and it looks like work."

By the end of the day the District Connectional Ministries Council of the Southeast District affirmed its ongoing commitment to Latino ministry and leadership development. In addition, the DCMC identified communication among the churches and leaders of the district as a growing edge to develop further.

Karen Dungan's work with Connectional Ministries is supported by local church contributions to apportionments.

THANK YOU NOTES

Stories of Connectional Giving

www.iaumc.org/tyn

Karen Dungan, Assistant to the Bishop for Connectional Ministries

Leaders from the Southeast District gathered late in August for a retreat to consider their priorities for ministry in the next few years. Karen Dungan came to facilitate the meeting.

She framed the discussion around Luke: 4:18-19, the proclamation of the year of God's favor, connecting it with the Biblical teaching of Jubilee. The group was reminded that God calls us to help the world practice Jubilee.

She encouraged the leaders to look at the ministry that they were already doing in order to build on their assets. Then she cited a quote from Thomas

Edison to help open up unexpected possibilities:

"Opportunity is missed by most people because it is dressed in overalls and it looks like work."

By the end of the day the District Connectional Ministries Council of the Southeast District affirmed its ongoing commitment to Latino ministry and leadership development. In addition, the DCMC identified communication among the churches and leaders of the district as a growing edge to develop further.

Karen Dungan's work with Connectional Ministries is supported by local church contributions to apportionments.

