Stories of Connectional Giving

Collegiate United Methodist Church/Wesley Foundation, Ames

The annual Advent Workshop is an opportunity for the young and young at heart to create "masterpieces" that will be treasured for a lifetime. Cookie decorating, story time, and refreshments are additional activities to add to the festivities.

This year some 20 Iowa State University students made the event extra special. They invited the kids from the Emergency Residence Project (the local homeless shelter).

Each of the 12 children were paired with a college student buddy who spent the afternoon with them to work on their masterpieces and get to know them.

At the end of the afternoon when it was time to take the kids home, a girl turned to the two buddies that had been helping her and gave each of them a hug. It was priceless. Later organizers found out that the kids had been talking about the Advent Workshop for days after the event. They had a great time and so did the college students.

Apportionment gifts from local churches across Iowa help to support this ministry. Learn more about Collegiate United Methodist Church and Wesley Foundation by visiting their website www.cumc-wf.org.
