

THANK YOU NOTES

Stories of Connectional Giving

www.iaumc.org/tyn

Jail Ministry, Toledo, Iowa

Christ United Methodist Church in Toledo offers a worship service on Sunday evenings for the inmates at the Tama County Jail.

The ministry began in 2005 when their Evangelism Committee began to ask itself what more the church could be doing to reach out to persons in need.

A ministry at the jail was proposed. Within months a steering committee was formed, and volunteers were selected and trained. Soon direct ministry with inmates began.

As the ministry grew people from other churches became involved, including those capable of bilingual and cross-cultural ministry to Hispanic and Native American inmates.

By 2008 ministry leaders began to dream about being able to provide released inmates with their own Bibles, care items, and other resources.

That is now happening thanks in part to a Matthew 25 grant from the Northeast District, which is funded through apportionment gifts from United Methodist churches throughout Iowa.

Learn more about Christ United Methodist Church at their website: www.cumc.tamatoledo.org.

THANK YOU NOTES

Stories of Connectional Giving

www.iaumc.org/tyn

Jail Ministry, Toledo, Iowa

Christ United Methodist Church in Toledo offers a worship service on Sunday evenings for the inmates at the Tama County Jail.

The ministry began in 2005 when their Evangelism Committee began to ask itself what more the church could be doing to reach out to persons in need.

A ministry at the jail was proposed. Within months a steering committee was formed, and volunteers were selected and trained. Soon direct ministry with inmates began.

As the ministry grew people from other churches became involved, including those capable of bilingual and cross-cultural ministry to Hispanic and Native American inmates.

By 2008 ministry leaders began to dream about being able to provide released inmates with their own Bibles, care items, and other resources.

That is now happening thanks in part to a Matthew 25 grant from the Northeast District, which is funded through apportionment gifts from United Methodist churches throughout Iowa.

Learn more about Christ United Methodist Church at their website: www.cumc.tamatoledo.org.

