

THANK YOU NOTES

Edgar Solis

Stories of Connectional Giving

www.iaumc.org/tyn

United Methodist Women Reach Out to Hispanic Women

The Hispanic population in Iowa is growing dramatically, and United Methodist Women are reaching out to these new neighbors in our midst to encourage their spiritual development.

Last October they offered a spiritual growth study in Spanish at their Mission Education Event in Marshalltown taught by Mexican pastor Edgar Solis from Muscatine. They hosted 25 adults, 6 teens, and 24 children from four different Hispanic ministries of the Iowa Conference.

Judy Kading, the Social Action Mission Coordinator for the Iowa Conference UMW, said that none of the Hispanic women had attended this event before. "All were enthusiastic participants and thanked us for the opportunity to learn so much about the United Methodist Women and the United Methodist Church. On Mission Night they shared their love of music with us, much to the delight of an appreciative audience."

Financial support for this initiative came from local church apportionments through the Conference Hispanic Ministries Standing Committee of the Iowa Board of Global Ministries and the Southeast District Connectional Ministries Council.

THANK YOU NOTES

Edgar Solis

Stories of Connectional Giving

www.iaumc.org/tyn

United Methodist Women Reach Out to Hispanic Women

The Hispanic population in Iowa is growing dramatically, and United Methodist Women are reaching out to these new neighbors in our midst to encourage their spiritual development.

Last October they offered a spiritual growth study in Spanish at their Mission Education Event in Marshalltown taught by Mexican pastor Edgar Solis from Muscatine. They hosted 25 adults, 6 teens, and 24 children from four different Hispanic ministries of the Iowa Conference.

Judy Kading, the Social Action Mission Coordinator for the Iowa Conference UMW, said that none of the Hispanic women had attended this event before. "All were enthusiastic participants and thanked us for the opportunity to learn so much about the United Methodist Women and the United Methodist Church. On Mission Night they shared their love of music with us, much to the delight of an appreciative audience."

Financial support for this initiative came from local church apportionments through the Conference Hispanic Ministries Standing Committee of the Iowa Board of Global Ministries and the Southeast District Connectional Ministries Council.

