

THANK YOU NOTES

Stories of Connectional Giving

www.iaumc.org/tyn

Church World Service/CROP

The Iowa Church World Service/CROP Hunger Walk Office is grateful for the ongoing generosity of United Methodist clergy and laity throughout Iowa.

During 2008 (the latest available statistics), Iowa volunteers gave almost $1 million to the various ministries of Church World Service, including CROP Hunger Walks and Blankets+ offerings. United Methodist congregations contributed more than half of all funds donated to the Blankets+ program throughout Iowa in 2008.

United Methodist laity and clergy assume leadership roles in CROP Hunger Walks, organizing and supporting them throughout the state of Iowa. In almost any year, the top individual contributors to CROP Walks in Iowa are members of three United Methodist congregations.

Russ Melby (pictured), the Iowa Director of Church World Service/CROP, accepts invitations from local churches and other United Methodist organizations to interpret their ministry. He also serves on the Iowa Conference's Ingathering planning team.

Connie Daiker serves as Program Assistant at the Iowa office of Church World Service, where they welcome your calls and e-mails. Learn more about their work by visiting their website at www.churchworldservice.org.

THANK YOU NOTES

Stories of Connectional Giving

www.iaumc.org/tyn

Church World Service/CROP

The Iowa Church World Service/CROP Hunger Walk Office is grateful for the ongoing generosity of United Methodist clergy and laity throughout Iowa.

During 2008 (the latest available statistics), Iowa volunteers gave almost $1 million to the various ministries of Church World Service, including CROP Hunger Walks and Blankets+ offerings. United Methodist congregations contributed more than half of all funds donated to the Blankets+ program throughout Iowa in 2008.

United Methodist laity and clergy assume leadership roles in CROP Hunger Walks, organizing and supporting them throughout the state of Iowa. In almost any year, the top individual contributors to CROP Walks in Iowa are members of three United Methodist congregations.

Russ Melby (pictured), the Iowa Director of Church World Service/CROP, accepts invitations from local churches and other United Methodist organizations to interpret their ministry. He also serves on the Iowa Conference's Ingathering planning team.

Connie Daiker serves as Program Assistant at the Iowa office of Church World Service, where they welcome your calls and e-mails. Learn more about their work by visiting their website at www.churchworldservice.org.

