

THANK YOU NOTES

Stories of Connectional Giving

www.iaumc.org/tyn

Collegiate UMC and Wesley Foundation

Faithspring is an alternative worship service of the Wesley Foundation at Iowa State University in partnership with Collegiate United Methodist Church in Ames.

Recently, they have been enjoying a look at "The Gospel According to Dr. Seuss." Sermons were based on "Horton Hatches the Egg," "Bartholomew and the Oobleck," "The Zoad", "Oh the Places You'll Go," and "What Was I Scared of?"

They had fun publicizing this series throughout the community. Students and staff wore the Cat in the Hat costume on campus, at Clubfest (the big event with all of the student organizations at Iowa State University), and around the church.

During this sermon series they had the first ever Skype sermon. Former Campus Ministry Associate, Chris Hockley, gave a sermon from 1,800 miles away via the Internet!

Faithspring is one of the innovative ways the Wesley Foundations — supported by apportionments — teach the whole church about reaching out in the name of Christ. The band plays upbeat music. Seating is on couches and at round tables. Popcorn and drinks are available.

Learn more about Collegiate Wesley at <http://www.cumc-wf.org>.

THANK YOU NOTES

Stories of Connectional Giving

www.iaumc.org/tyn

Collegiate UMC and Wesley Foundation

Faithspring is an alternative worship service of the Wesley Foundation at Iowa State University in partnership with Collegiate United Methodist Church in Ames.

Recently, they have been enjoying a look at "The Gospel According to Dr. Seuss." Sermons were based on "Horton Hatches the Egg," "Bartholomew and the Oobleck," "The Zoad", "Oh the Places You'll Go," and "What Was I Scared of?"

They had fun publicizing this series throughout the community. Students and staff wore the Cat in the Hat costume on campus, at Clubfest (the big event with all of the student organizations at Iowa State University), and around the church.

During this sermon series they had the first ever Skype sermon. Former Campus Ministry Associate, Chris Hockley, gave a sermon from 1,800 miles away via the Internet!

Faithspring is one of the innovative ways the Wesley Foundations — supported by apportionments — teach the whole church about reaching out in the name of Christ. The band plays upbeat music. Seating is on couches and at round tables. Popcorn and drinks are available.

Learn more about Collegiate Wesley at <http://www.cumc-wf.org>.

