

THANK YOU NOTES

Stories of Connectional Giving

www.iaumc.org/tyn

MATTHEW 25 MINISTRY HUB, CEDAR RAPIDS

“In the last several months,” writes Clint Twedt-Ball, “Matthew 25 has gotten a lot of recognition for the work we have done in flood impacted neighborhoods of Cedar Rapids.

“Some have even talked about how God was present in putting Matthew 25 in the perfect place to respond to the flooding in the neighborhoods where we live and work.

“God was preparing this organization and the United Methodist Church to respond even before the floods happened. Part of what was being done was the building of relationships with people in the neighborhoods, starting with one-on-one meetings with individuals.

“We asked, ‘What gifts do you see in this neighborhood and what do you think needs to change enough that you would help make that change happen?’

“This push happened in part because of Jill Sanders, the Field Outreach Minister for the East Central District. I thank God for the apportionment funding that helped put Jill in place so that seeds could be planted and relationships could bear fruit.”

Learn more about the Matthew 25 Ministry Hub and how you can get involved with ongoing flood recovery in Cedar Rapids at www.hub25.org.

THANK YOU NOTES

Stories of Connectional Giving

www.iaumc.org/tyn

MATTHEW 25 MINISTRY HUB, CEDAR RAPIDS

“In the last several months,” writes Clint Twedt-Ball, “Matthew 25 has gotten a lot of recognition for the work we have done in flood impacted neighborhoods of Cedar Rapids.

“Some have even talked about how God was present in putting Matthew 25 in the perfect place to respond to the flooding in the neighborhoods where we live and work.

“God was preparing this organization and the United Methodist Church to respond even before the floods happened. Part of what was being done was the building of relationships with people in the neighborhoods, starting with one-on-one meetings with individuals.

“We asked, ‘What gifts do you see in this neighborhood and what do you think needs to change enough that you would help make that change happen?’

“This push happened in part because of Jill Sanders, the Field Outreach Minister for the East Central District. I thank God for the apportionment funding that helped put Jill in place so that seeds could be planted and relationships could bear fruit.”

Learn more about the Matthew 25 Ministry Hub and how you can get involved with ongoing flood recovery in Cedar Rapids at www.hub25.org.

